Early Friday morning this sulfur truck rolled over while turning onto Hwy 582 from Hwy 22, and set on fire. Didsbury RCMP and Fire Department were both on scene along with Mountain View Regional Emergency Services. The driver of the truck, a man in his mid forties, was taken to Didsbury Hospital with minor injuries. A nearby farm was briefly evacuated because of the burning sulfur, and Alberta Transportation and Dangerous goods were both called. Both the RCMP and the Fire Department were on scene for over seven hours. It is still under investigation why the truck rolled.

Town presents Strategic Plan to Didsburians

by Tamara Collins

Didsbury Town Council is ready to present the Strategic Plan to the community they have been working on, and they will do it with a scene of interesting and informative displays.

On Wednesday, June 1 at 7 p.m. Council will release their plans to Didsbury at the 5-0 Club.

"You will see your input reflected in the council direction for the future," said mayor Dorothy Moore. "Expect to see information about the 2005 budget, municipal taxes, water meter updates, and a display of information about our future green composting bins."

These new green bins are expected to divert an amazing variety of compostable products from the landfill, lengthening the life-span of the regional landfill and producing high quality compost.

"Council is committed to improve communication with businesses and residents, and have been working on ways to collect your idea and opinions in key questions," said Moore. "We are looking forward to hosting residents again, now that we have had the time to assimilate your input and become familiar with the financial land legislative environment."

When Council started their term last fall, they immediately held a 'Meet the Council' and each councillor and mayor Moore listened to residents in small groups and took note of their advice, comments and concerns. In the months following Council developed a Strategic Plan for the Town based on what they understood and have heard about the priorities of Didsburians.

"Of course we are always constrained financially so the 'must do' categories will definitely be addressed as soon as possible and the 'nice to have' categories will be considered in light of the limitations of the budget and according to expressed priorities," said Moore.

Increased regulation and safety requirements often place items higher on the priority list. Development is going ahead on several residential properties and the new high school as well as several commercial enterprises. Almost all of the Town's services industrial land has been sold.

Didsbury is moving forward economically and will benefit from the infrastructure grants, and GST and fuel tax rebates as well as the temporary relief from RCMP policing costs.

"We will be publically presenting a long term infrastructure rehabilitation capital budget as soon as we have reliable, documented estimates of needed replacement and repairs," said Moore.

Councillors have now taken training in legislative processes and in economic development, along with some community members who have been selected for our reborn economic development committee.

Town Council has also been working hard on intermunicipal cooperation with all municipalities, rural and urban within the county.

"We have accomplished unprecedented collaboration, and will be proud to show you what has been accomplished to date," said Moore. "I am confident that you will be pleased with what Council has accomplished since the October election, and council and I look forward to speaking with you personally on June 1."

Highway 2 renamed after the Queen

by Tamara Collins

Highway 2 between Edmonton and Calgary is now known as the Queen Elizabeth II Highway.

Premier Ralph Klein announced the new designation May 23 during a dinner to honour The Queen's visit and Alberta's Centennial.

"Highway 2 between Edmonton and Calgary is Alberta's most-travelled highway and is a fitting tribute to Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II," said Premier Klein. "This highway's new designation will be a lasting legacy from the Royal Visit and Alberta's Centennial celebrations."

Only the portion of Highway 2 between Edmonton's south and Calgary's north city limits is designated as the Queen Elizabeth II Highway. At 260 kilometres, it is the longest continuous stretch of road named after a monarch in Canada and is the only Canadian highway named for Her Majesty (the Queen Elizabeth Way in Ontario is named for The Queen Mother). Approximately 20,000 to 54,000 vehicles travel this stretch of Highway 2 each day, depending on location.

"The bottom line was that it was Highway 2, and she is Queen Elizabeth II," said Didsbury, Olds, Three Hills MLA Richard Marz. "I am sure many people will still refer to it as Highway 2, but it is an honor to be bestowed upon the Queen. She is the head of the Commonwealth, so she is the figure head of our system."

mark the designation will be installed at Gateway Park south of Edmonton and the Dickson-Stevenson Rest Area north of Calgary near Crossfield. The new highway signs were put in place on the morning of May 24 on Highway 2 between Edmonton and the Edmonton International Airport so that The Queen could view them on her way to the airport.

"We renamed Highway 22 the Cowboy Trail a few years back," said Marz. "That turned out to be a very popular move. It (renaming of Hwy 2) has not yet been a popular move with a lot of people, but some communities are very supportive. My focus has not been on renaming the highway, but improving the roads we have, we need to spend more time on that and less concentrating on this."

BSE two years later

by Jodi Styner

Two years have past since a single case of BSE rocked the Canadian cattle industry-an anniversary nobody is celebrating.

"It has been devastating to say the least," said Jack Daines, Innisfail Auction Market.

Today cattle prices sit about 1/3 of where they were two years ago and ranchers, rather than selling an old cow for $300, they are keeping her, so herd numbers are growing with nowhere to go.

It's a trend Premier Ralph Klein said he expects will continue for another two years, but Daines is a bit more optimistic.

"I think it'll be open in a year," he said. "If people can bear with it, we're going to survive and have great times."

MP Myron Thompson said he'd like to see a recovery sooner than later.

"We're going to make a scene down there (at the appeal hearing in July)... let's hope this judge has a little bit of common sense."

In terms of long term sustainability, Daines said building new packing facilities and opening new markets are great, but the only real solution will come from reopening the U.S. market.

"They can use all the beef we can box," he said. "If the border opens, they'll vacuum that beef across the line and it would just help the economy of the whole nation."

Daines said one positive has emerged from the devastation.

"The Canadian people know our product is the greatest, so when they light that BBQ this weekend they're eating healthy, good food, and we'd like to thank them for how they've made the industry even stay afloat."

Cowabunga

TAMARA COLLINS
EDITORIAL

Thursday night at Ross Ford School they held a dance outside to raise money for the new playground equipment they need to purchase, and this event was called Cowabunga. If attended this event, you would have witnessed the school spirit unlike any I have seen before.

The parking lot was overloaded with happy students, parents and teachers. Everyone was dancing, singing and participating in the action. It was a beautiful night and everyone was clearly enjoying themselves.

It is great when a school fundraiser can bring out so many people who are eager to help. The mood was definitely contagious.

They do not yet know how much money was raised, but I am sure they already know the evening was a big success.

Ponderings of the heart

by Margaret Fradley

"Time Flies"

This month, I am beginning my eighth year writing "Ponderings of the Heart". It is hard to believe that, long ago, I suggested to Gene, our publisher, that it would be nice to have a short word of encouragement in each issue of the Review. He sent me home to write "four". I had no thought of this task being something I could do, I thought someone else could pick it up. But sometime later to my own amazement I produced four short articles and Gene thought they would be acceptable. This would be a challenge.

As I think not only of the past seven years but of the future, of Ponderings, I know that as long as I have friends and acquaintances that help provide me with "fresh manna", (often in our everyday conversations), and grandchildren, I will continue.

I want to thank all of those who phone, or stop me on the street, whether I know you or not, and thank me for these short articles. Many of you have stated you like those about my grandchildren and the humorous ones, (the ones that usually show up my humanity and the many ways I get into situations that challenge me. I enjoy composing "Ponderings" but if you begin to tire of them, let me know. Although I am now sold out of my first book, I still have some remaining copies of "More Ponderings of the Heart" and they can be obtained through the Review or directly from me. Once they are sold out they will no longer be available. Thanks to all of you, who have supported me in my venture of writing these little books and encouraging me with my weekly writings.

Wild Rose Report

by Myron Thompson

Over the past few weeks, I have been asked many times by constituents what they should expect to see in Justice John Gomery's final report due in late 2005 or early 2006. Will Justice Gomery "name names" in his final report? Will Canadians be told who is guilty for stealing millions of public dollars via the sponsorship program? Will Gomery sentence anyone to jail time?

The answer to these questions is a categorical "no". Justice Gomery will not name names. He will not tell Canadians who is to blame, and he will not suggest what punishment these guilty individuals deserve. In fact, Justice Gomery is not allowed to say what many Canadians are expecting to hear. This muzzle on Gomery is found in Paragraph (K) of his Terms of Reference.

It reads as follows: "The Commissioner be directed to perform his duties without expressing any conclusion or recommendation regarding the civil or criminal liability of any person or organization and to ensure that the conduct of the inquiry does not jeopardize any ongoing criminal investigations or criminal proceedings."

So, if Gomery isn't allowed to say who is to blame, what will be in his final report? The answer to this can be found in Paragraphs (a) and (b) of Gomery's Terms of Reference:

a) "To investigate and report on questions raised, directly and indirectly, by Chapters 3 and 4 of the November 2004 Report of the Auditor General of Canada to the House of Commons with regard to the sponsorship program and advertising activities of the Government of Canada..."

b) "To make further recommendations that he considers advisable, based on the factual findings made under paragraph (a) to prevent mismanagement of sponsorship programs or advertising activities in the future..."

In other words, Gomery has been asked to investigate the issues raised by the Auditor General about the Sponsorship Program, and to make general recommendations to guide those creating sponsorship-type programs in the future.

In my opinion, this is in stark contrast to the expectation created by the Liberals and held by many Canadians that Gomery will be delivering a verdict and sentence in his final report. Paul Martin has deliberately misled Canadians about what to expect in the Report in an attempt to buy a few more months in power.

Those who have been following the inquiry on a daily basis have already reached the only logical conclusion available, that Liberal Party of Canada stole public funds through the sponsorship program and used them to cheat in the 1997, 2000 and 2004 federal election campaigns in Quebec. It is also very hard to believe, that Paul Martin didn't know what was going on within his own Liberal Party in Quebec.

Unfortunately, it probably won't be until next year that the people of Canada will have an opportunity through a federal election to render their decision on this Liberal misconduct. Judge Gomery may be the judge for now but it will be the Canadian people who will be the ultimate jury.

Thank you from the Central Alberta Women's Emergency Services

Dear editor;

On behalf of the Central Alberta Women's Emergency Services, I would like to thank all the people over the past few months who have so generously donated bedding - sheets, blankets, quilts and pillows through the Thrift Store. The women can only stay in the Shelter for a few weeks and then they must go out and find a home - or go back to the abuse. Last year there were some 2400 women who used the services.

There is an on-going need particularly for beds, bedding and kitchen items - pots, pans, knives etc. We have been taking a load up to the storage place in the Michener Centre every two weeks or so.

Thank you all

Carstairs firefighter and father of three dies, following tragic industrial accident

by Shawne Mohl

The entire Carstairs community is mourning the loss of 31-year-old Ray Hill, after he was involved in an industrial accident, later causing him to die.

Hill, a new recruit on the Carstairs Fire Department, leaves behind his high school sweetheart, Tanya and their three adorable daughters, ages five, three, and not even one-year-old.

Hill and his wife moved their family to the Town about a year ago. The family, like many new families moving to the community, wanted to get away from the daily hustle and bustle that the city offers, and also wanted a quiet, enjoyable community to raise their young family.

Hill, however, was still commuting - like many Carstairs residents - to his Calgary job at ABI Moulding Ltd in the city's northeast where he worked as a supervisor.

In a television interview last week on Global Television, Hill's wife, Tanya - also 31 - says that she warned him daily to be careful, and wonders what she is going to do.

"Every morning, I'd kiss him and say, 'I love you, be careful,'" Tanya said. "I don't know what to say. I'm just so heartbroken. I'm empty."

Tanya's sister, Jennifer - a Calgary resident - says that the entire family is deeply mourning the loss of Ray, adding that he has been a part of their family for the past 14 years, and says it's even sadder because her sister and him had just started their young family together and had so much to look forward to.

"They have been together since they were 17, she is (now) 31. They were everything to each other. They were each other's world. You have never seen a couple more together and in love than they were," Jennifer said, when we contacted her by phone at her sisters home last Friday. "Tanya is devastated. She doesn't know how she is going to go on."

The family still isn't 100 per cent sure what caused Hill's industrial accident, but they do know that he died of a heart attack.

Reports say Hill died after he became trapped under a hydraulic scissor lift at his workplace. Hill's co-workers then pulled the father of three out from under the lift, but he suffered a cardiac arrest and could not be revived.

Thane Schaffer, the Town of Carstairs' Fire Chief, recalls Hill as being a young, energetic guy willing to do all it took to become a full fledged firefighter. In fact this past weekend Hill was suppose to be at a training session to earn that certification.

"He was a new recruit; he had only been on the department for a little over 2-and-a-half months. This weekend he was suppose to go for his S300, which is the course that is required to become a full-fledged responding member," Schaffer said. "We were really excited to have Ray on the department. He was really level headed, very, very eager to learn and seemed to really enjoy the material that we were reviewing."

The Carstairs' Fire Department has gone through some major changes, and one of those changes was to try to find more members with a positive attitude, eager to help make the community safe. Schaffer says that Hill was one of those members, and it's a huge loss for not only his family, but the entire community.

"We were really looking forward to him and a couple of other members to spark some life into the department. It's an unfortunate loss all around."

Murray Pound, another member of the Carstairs Fire Department, agreed that it's a very sad loss, and explained that local fire department members are trying to raise as much money as possible to help out the family.

Pound says that they have taken funds out of a fire department account because they felt this was a good cause to donate to, and some members have dipped into their own pockets to assist Tanya and her three children.

"We decided to put some money together from our social fund, and some of the guys pulled money out of their own pockets (to donate to the family).

We also have plans to do a fundraiser. We are going to build a play house or something, and raffle it off. We are going to try to raise a little more money for them," Pound said.

Pound, also owner of the Rona store in Carstairs, says that the fire department members will take donations from local residents, if they wish to donate to the Hill family. If residents don't know a member of the fire department, Pound says that donations will be accepted at the Rona store.

"Anything we can do will help. This is just part of being a small town.

This is one of the reasons why people move to a small town, so that there is that support system. When things like this happen, I think it's important that we step up and help out as much as can," Pound said.

A trust fund has also been set up at the Royal Bank. Donations can be made to the 'Ray Hill Memorial Fund' through any branch of the Royal Bank.

Hill's funeral was held in Calgary this past Monday, May 30.

Thank you for returning your empty pesticide containers for recycling!
BUT PLEASE:

BRING THEM BACK clean

*Pesticide containers up to 23 L

Containers that aren't thoroughly rinsed and drained contaminate all the rest - resulting in significantly higher recycling costs

stewardshipfirst
working responsibly to protect people and the environment

Do more than just bring them back: Bring them back clean!

Agricultural producers have been returning pesticide containers for recycling for more than 15 years, through a very successful program administered by CropLife Canada.

Canada leads the world in this recycling initiative, with over 70% of all containers being returned - more than 60 million so far - but there is room for improvement. Not all containers returned are completely clean. Those that aren't rinsed and drained contaminate all the rest, resulting in a 'Hazardous Recyclable Waste' designation and significantly higher recycling costs.

Growers are urged to follow the 3 Rs of the pesticide container recycling program:

- 1) pressure rinse or triple-rinse containers (up to 23 L) thoroughly to eliminate all pesticide residue;
- 2) remove paper booklets, sleeves and caps;
- 3) return the clean, empty containers to your regional collection site.

Please do your part to create a healthier, safer rural environment and Bring Them Back Clean.

Didsbury's Iwa Yama Karate Club travels to Ontario

Members of the Iwa Yama Karate Club in Didsbury recently went on a trip to Ontario for a competition.

Fourteen members of the Iwa Yama Karate Club from Didsbury travelled to Ontario to compete in the Shintani National Memorial Championship Tournament. It was an experience that I am sure all of us will treasure and look forward to in years to come.

The week was an exciting mixture of sightseeing and karate. After landing on Thursday and storing our luggage, we had a few hours to roam before heading to a workout at the club in St. Catharines with Sensei Neil Prime. An opportunity to spar with a large number of black belts was appreciated, and definitely challenging after a long day of travel and roaming. Friday was spent touring Niagara Falls. Rain ponchos were the style of the day while taking in the magnificence of the falls from above and then below on Maiden of the Mist. The sun made an appearance just in time for one group to hike the gorge and tour the butterfly conservatory while the other group took in the carnival-like atmosphere of Clifton Heights.

No time to rest our tired, wet feet before heading to Brock University on Friday night for the workshop hosted by the members of the Senate. The Senate members rotated every ½ hour through the divisions organized by belt rank. With only ½ hour to spend in each division, they focused on basic form and technique to build a solid foundation. Before moving on, each Sensei shared a personal memory or interpretation of Sensei Shintani's vision.

The four hour workshop gave us all an opportunity to meet our fellow competitors and focus our energy for the upcoming day.

The tournament on Saturday morning began with opening ceremonies. This time was spent acknowledging the efforts of all members across the provinces; from the provincial reps and volunteers to the Canadian National Team. I am proud to say that western Canada presented very well with Alberta and Saskatchewan having remarkable attendance. Sensei Denis Labbe introduced Sensei Shintani's sister and stated that Sensei would have been proud of each and every one of us and what we represented as an organization.

There were approximately 340 competitors. Many of the divisions, especially in the lower ranks were very large. The majority of our group placed with medals. Those of us who did not place, came home with renewed knowledge and a pride of our personal growth.

Sensei Rathe and brown belt Delaine Seemann competed in the Masters Cup, performing a bunkai demonstration. In unison, they executed portions of a kata intersected by a smooth transition of the relative bunkai.

On Sunday, the brave woke up bright and early to attend a workout in Welland with members of the Senate in attendance. For the rest, with the tournament behind us, touring Toronto was our main focus. We were honoured with the presence of Sensei Ron Matte, his energy and fun sense of humour. Together we toured the Royal Ontario Museum. Afterwards we took the subway downtown where one group split off to see the CN Tower while the other group sought to experience Queen Street West and China Town. (Watch Much Music to see Jan and Michelle's Speaker's Corner moment.)

Monday and Tuesday... Boom! Just like that, our adventure was coming to an end. Time to see and do as much as we could before the flight home. Zoo, Niagara Falls at night, Niagara on the Lake, the Locks, hiking in the canyon of the falls... Race to Hamilton and arrive at our gate just in time. Who wanted to hang out at the airport anyways? We were on our way home with mixed emotions. So sad that this trip has come to an end, while at the same time missing our loved ones back home.

NEIGHBORHOOD

Last Spring, after several years of complaining bitterly about the number of people who mumbled and were unable to enunciate simple English, after more years of fighting with my husband about his failure to "speak up," especially in the car, after finally admitting that I was missing bits of conversation and following TV from the general content rather than the dialogue, I made an appointment with an audiologist.

In due course I was assessed, tested, adjusted, fitted and sent off into what is supposed to be a clearer, brighter world, and it did help for a lot of things. But I still don't understand that bird voiced blonde on CSI and I don't get the lyrics of unfamiliar songs. Probably just as well.

Only my left ear needed assistance so I have just one nice, neat little hearing aid. It can be turned up or down, has an adjustment for crowds that cuts background noise, and comes with tools for maintaining its pristine condition and cases to keep it in when not in use. The travelling case stays in my purse and the sturdier and slightly larger one is usually beside my chair in the Living Room. As the technician handed me the case she looked into my eyes and said very seriously, and I thought a bit dramatically, "when you are not wearing your hearing aid always, always, store it in this case." Sure, sure, I'm careful with my stuff.

And for several months I was careful. I don't wear the thing during the day when I am in the house alone so usually I left it in its case beside my chair ready for the evening when we turn on the TV. As I became more used to wearing it I became a bit more casual and occasionally I would find that I had left it on the end table near, but not in, it's case and sometimes I would be scrubbing my teeth, realize that I was still wearing my hearing aid and leave it on the counter in the bathroom. I was careful to leave it well away from the sink, it is small enough to go down the drain. There was one little incident when my two year old grandson trotted into the kitchen and handed me my hearing aid. "What a good boy you are," I told him, "some little boys would have played with this and lost it and Grandma would have been absolutely sick."

Last Tuesday afternoon as I prepared for a meeting I reached for my hearing aid. It was not on the table by my chair and I felt a nasty little premonition. I had a vague memory of preparing for bed, putting it down somewhere and thinking as I did so, "this is not a very good idea, I will have to move this to a better place."

Maybe I left it in the bathroom, but it was not there or on our dresser, or on the desk in the office, or by the phone in the kitchen. With all the logical places checked I moved on to vague possibilities, it was not in the pocket of anything, it was not folded into the fresh laundry.

With my husbands help we lifted and looked under all the furniture in the Living Room, on hands and knees we searched the floors in the halls and bedroom, we stripped our bed and lifted the mattress, took the cushions off the sofa. Next came the places you search while hoping you won't find anything. The trap in the bathroom sink, the washer and dryer. I blamed the cat, I blamed myself, Grandma, as predicted, was absolutely sick.

By Friday everything had been searched three times, "I know you checked the recycling," my husband said, "but did you go through the kitchen garbage for the burning barrel? I will dump the bag into the back of the Gator and go through it piece by piece." "I'll come too," I said sadly, "It's totally hopeless but I'm so depressed now that picking over garbage may even cheer me up."

We found it almost immediately. It was wrapped in a piece of Kleenex, it was dry and clean and it works just fine. I'm guessing that I did the deed while I was tidying the desk in the office. For the next few months I will indeed 'keep it in its case when it's not in use,' but human nature being what it is I will probably get more careless as time goes by. Does this mean that I have used up my allotted share of luck for this year? There goes my chance at a Readers Digest Sweepstake. Sigh.

Ride for Sight helping families like the Taylors

Terry Hickok

Every year motorcyclers from across Alberta get together for a good cause, and take a 'Ride for Sight' and this year the ride will take place in Olds.

The Ride for Sight will take place on June 10, 11 and 12th. "People don't realize how close to home blindness, and other diseases causing the loss of sight, are," said Terry Hickok, Ride for Sight coordinator for Didsbury. "Just a few weeks ago I was reading about the Taylor family in the paper, and how they are battling RP (Retinitis Pigmentosa). When the Ride for Sight first started all the money raised went to RP, now the money still goes towards that, and other diseases that cause blindness."

This past January Hickok attended the International Motorcycle Show, and he got to listen to two doctors talk about the progress made from the money raised through the Ride for Sight, and also from a man whose life has greatly benefitted from the Ride.

"They talked about RP and how far they have come with stopping the progression of the disease," said Hickok. "The battle continues to find other ways of fighting or slowing down the process of eye diseases."

The Ride for Sight Foundation has been around for 26 years, and it started in Alberta 20 years ago. Hickok has been involved since 1995. If you would like to participate in the Ride for Sight you can contact Terry at 335-4487, or 507-3781. He has pledge books available and can answer any questions.

Last year the Ride raised over $80,000 in Alberta, and over a million dollars in Canada.

"I just want people to understand what we are doing and that we even have a local family who is battling RP," said Hickok. "If we have good weather I think it will be a great turnout and a real good time."

If you do not ride you can still come out to the event to watch and make a donation, or enter the gate for a $10 fee.

3rd Annual Bullriding Classic

On June 11, 32 of Canada's top professional bull riders will compete in Didsbury at the Bullriding Classic.

This exciting event will take place at the Ag Society's Rodeo Grounds, and the gates will open at 6 p.m. the event will start up at 7 p.m. followed by a cabaret.

Admission at the gate is $15 for adults, or you can purchase tickets in advance at the Ag Society office for only $10. Adult admission also includes entry into the cabaret.

"It is a great deal to purchase your tickets in advance," said Connie Conley, Ag Society. "You save 33 percent."

The cabaret will start around 9 p.m. and will include DJ entertainment.

If you are feeling lucky, you may want to 'Buy a Bullrider' for only $100, and if your rider wins you will receive half the pot, $1600.

"If you want to buy a bullrider you better hurry and get on the bandwagon cause they are already half sold," said

Conley.

Although this is the third annual Bullriding Classic, it is only the second held at the Rodeo Grounds, the first one was held at the Memorial Complex.

"It is going to be a ton of fun," said Conley. "You can hear people laughing from all over."

Spectators are allowed to get much closer to the action than at the Rodeo, bleachers are moved in so you are very close to the bulls.

"People seem to really like that, they like being that close," said Conley.

On June 10, the day before the event, the Ag Society will host a barbecue in front of their office, and they will be selling hot dogs and hamburgers.

The barbecue will go from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and it is a great opportunity to purchase your tickets in advance for only $10.

If you have any questions, or would like to buy a bullrider, you can contact Connie at the office at 335-4494.

Farmer's Market back on

Farmers' Market

Mark your calendars because the Farmer's Market is back on every Wednesday at the Didsbury Curling Rink.

This is a great night for people within the Didsbury community to come together for coffee with friends, to make some money, or to buy fresh, local food.

This Wednesday is the third market of the year and for the first time this season local grown plants will be on sight.

"They are grown just outside of town," said Market organizer Laura Krebs. "We also have fresh asparagus from here in town. The last few weeks it sold out so fast, it is a big hit."

The Market sells a variety of things from chocolates, crafts, quilts, baking, fruit, Tupperware and Watkins.

"We have about 10 to 15 tables a week right now, but that will increase to about 20 tables a week," said Krebs. "There are still lots of tables available, you just have to call me."

The cost is $7 a week for a table in the Market, and you can contact Laura at 335-4252 to book yours.

"Everything is home grown or home made, it is wonderful," said Krebs. "It is also a great place to come and visit with your neighbors, we also sell coffee and pop."

The Market runs from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. until sometime in September, depending on the weather. "Come out and support your local community," said Krebs. "Everything is fresh and it is a nice time."

Up and Down the Fireman's Ladder

by Tyrone Patten

It's raining outside as I sit down to write these few words. So far, we have been treated to a wonderful spring. Not too much rain, yet just enough to keep things green. I know there are a lot of people that disagree with me, but that's ok. Hopefully the rain doesn't last long today, as the fire dept./EMS ball team starts playing tonight (May 24). Games are scheduled for Tuesdays for now, then Thursdays will be added next month. I will keep everyone informed about their progress.

We can say that we hosted another very successful cabaret on May 7. Again, we had another sold out crowd. From the feedback that I have heard, everyone that was there had a fantastic time. We haven't got the final figures yet, but all the money raised will go toward the purchase of an infrared camera. With the camera, we can see hot spots that are hidden behind walls and underneath floors. Right now, if we need to use a camera, we call Olds, and they come down with theirs.

Since last report, we have responded to 15 calls. They were:

- Ambulance assists 5
- Wildland fires 4
- M.V.C.'s 3
- Structure fires 1
- Alarm, no fire 1
- Mutual aid 1

There were 8 calls during the day, 6 in the evening, and 1 at night, for a total of 17 hours in the field.

Burnside and Jutland School Centennial Celebrations

The Burnside and Jutland Schools' Centennial Celebration Committee met on May 19th at the Aspen Lodge with Claire Jackson (Woods), a former student as hostess to the fifteen planners who attended.

One of the biggest concerns of the group is to get grants or donations to help cover the costs of putting on this celebration.

This 100 year celebration for Jutland and Burnside Schools will be held at Lone Pine Hall on Saturday and Sunday July 23rd and 24th, 2005. Registration will begin on arrival on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. There will be pins, pens, and name tags for the guests.

Dedication of the School Sites will begin at 3:00 p.m. The plaques will be fastened to a rock mounted on cement. These plaques were obtained at a cost of over $300.00 each. The work of mounting these was done by some of the men on the committee.

There will be coffee, juice, and tea available till a catered supper is served from 6:00 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. Saturday night, followed by a roll call and entertainment. This will be stories of former school days and any talent you may wish to present.

Please bring any school pictures that you may have to put up.

We are hoping all those who come will R.S.V.P. by July 10th, 2005 to Derek Page (403) 335-3044, Shirley Thompson (403) 335-3787, Lois Casebeer (403) 337-2147.

There is some sponsored cars available, drivers are needed, please phone soon and register.

Please follow the rules for the Derby.

1. Drivers must be 8 - 14 yrs. of age, boys or girls.
2. Protective head gear must be worn by all drivers.
3. All cars must meet the original intent of the Derby (no bed frames, skateboards, etc.). The "Safety Inspection Board" will rule on any questionable entries.

4. If you have to replace your worn out wheels, the only wheels acceptable are from the "Derby Go Kit".

5. Awards for Participation and Special Awards may be awarded, for example - best dressed or the fanciest car.

6. All cars must have adequate brakes.

QUESTION: My wife works hard to teach my sons to respect me as their father, and that makes my job with them easier. Even when she is upset with me, she never lets the kids know about it. Don't you think that is generous of her?

DR. DOBSON: She's not only generous -- she's a wise woman, too. Mothers can help bond the generations together and they can drive a wedge between them. This concept was expressed beautifully in a book entitled "Fathers and Sons" by Lewis Yablonsky (Simon & Schuster). The author observed that mothers are the primary interpreters of fathers' personality, character and integrity to their sons. In other words, the way boys see their fathers is largely a product of the things their mothers have said and the way they feel about their husbands. In Yablonsky's case, his mother destroyed the respect he might have had for his father. This is what he wrote.

"I vividly recall sitting at the dinner table with my two brothers and father and mother and cringing at my mother's attacks on my father. 'Look at him,' she would say in Yiddish. 'His shoulders are bent down, he's a failure. He doesn't have the courage to get a better job or make more money. He's a beaten man.' He would keep his eyes pointed toward his place and never answer her. She never extolled his virtues or persistence or the fact that he worked so hard. Instead she constantly focused on the negative and created an image for his three sons of a man without fight, crushed by a world over which he had no control.

"His not fighting back against her constant criticism had the effect of confirming its validity to her sons. And my mother's treatment and the picture of my father did not convey to me that marriage was a happy state of being, or that women were basically people. I was not especially motivated to assume the role of husband and father myself from my observations of my whipped father."

My overall research clearly supports that the mother is the basic filter and has enormous significance in the father-son relationship. Though Yablonsky did not say so, it is also true that a father can do great damage to his wife's relationship with their children. Very early on, I found that when I was irritated with Shirley for some reason, my attitude was instantly picked up by our son and daughter. They seemed to feel, "If Dad can argue with Mom, then we can too."

It became clear to me just how important it was for me to express my love and admiration for Shirley. However, I could never do that job of building respect for my wife as well as she did for me! She made me a king in my own home. If our son and daughter believed half of what she told them about me, I would have been a fortunate man. The close relationship I enjoy with Danae and Ryan today is largely a product of Shirley's great love for me and the way she "interpreted" me to our kids. I will always be grateful to her for doing that!

QUESTION: After reading several excellent books on parenting, I see now that I've been doing many things wrong with my children. Can I undo the harm?

DR. DOBSON: I doubt if it is too late to do things right, although your ability to influence your children lessens with the passage of time. Fortunately, we are permitted to make many mistakes with our kids. They are resilient and will usually survive most of our errors in judgment. It's a good thing they do, because none of us can be a perfect parent. Besides, it's not the occasional mistakes that hurt a child; it's the consistent influence of destructive conditions throughout childhood that does the damage.

"Do not stand at my grave and weep,
I am not there, I do not sleep.
I am a thousand winds that blow;
I am the diamond that glints on snow.
I am the sunlight on ripened grain;
I am the gentle autumn's rain.
When you awaken in the morning's hush,
I am the swift uplifting rush,
Of quiet birds in circled flight.
I am the soft star that shines at night.
Do not stand at my grave and cry,
I am not there; I did not die."

OBITUARY

DEDELS - Madlin Dedels went to be with her Lord on Friday, May 20, 2005. She passed away peacefully in the Didsbury Nursing Home at the age of 92 years. She was born Madlin Aura Faye Snyder on February 11, 1913 in Didsbury and grew up on a farm just east of town. She attended Gore School and graduated from Mountain View Bible College in 1934. On June 18, 1942, she married Herb Dedels of Breslau, ON and they made their home on the farm where she grew up. She was a lifetime member of the Missionary Church and loved gospel music, gardening, baking, cooking and especially her home life, which was centered on her family and friends. She was a devout worker with a very generous spirit. Madlin and Herb moved to town in 1968, after retiring from farming. She then moved into a suite next to her daughter Norma Jean's house in 1983, and finally into the nursing home in 1997. Madlin was predeceased by her husband Herb; parents Abram and Katherine Snyder and her brothers Ady and Bill Snyder. She will be lovingly remembered by her daughter Norma Jean (Gordie) Reimer; granddaughters Marla (Billy) Young and Anita Reimer; great grandchildren Lane, Erin and Evelyn Young; and her brother Loyal Snyder. Madlin's family would like to thank the staff at the Didsbury Nursing Home as well as all of her faithful friends who visited her during her stay. The funeral service and celebration of her life was held on Tuesday, May 24, 2005 at 2:00 p.m. at Zion Evangelical Missionary Church, Didsbury. Memorial donations may be made directly to the Zion Evangelical Missionary Church or World Vision Canada. As a tribute to Madlin Dedels, a tree will be planted in the Heartland Memorial Park, Olds. Heartland Funeral Services Ltd., Olds, entrusted with arrangements.

ON THIS DAY.....NOVEMBER 14, 1931

COMPILED BY GLENDA HUNSPERGER
FOR THE DIDSBURY MUSEUM &
HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Harold Erb, a student at the old sandstone in 1931 (now the museum), buried this ink well with a note inside. When the school merry-go-round was dismantled in 1990 the ink well and note were found... a 59 year time capsule! Mr Erb has since passed away but we consider ourselves very fortunate to have this little piece of history in our museum. Thanks Mr. Erb
